I was at the screening of this film with the director and cameraman, who answered questions perfectly. It just amazed me. It is full of incredible and touching. I got a lot from this movie. But I'm not saying it's the best movie. I'm just saying he's amazing and impressive. This is a truly amazing film about the power of the human family. I liked how they said the movie was called The Family. This shows that there is no specific season for this film, as is often the case in other films. They chose the autumn when they last had a family, and they play very well. This is one of the best roles I've seen.
