FIFA 19 introduced a newer, faster way to control the ball with dribbling and long-range shooting. Players can now cycle through “ranges of motion” by holding both “dribbling” and “shooting” buttons to quickly make a change or quickly control a different aspect of play. The new Dribbling and Shooting Assistance Controls will be accessible by pressing the “Triangle” button on the D-pad when the yellow “Dribbling” and “Shooting” buttons are lit up. The yellow Dribbling and Shooting Assistance Controls will remain lit throughout the Dribbling and Shooting animations. They will also remain lit during active play, and be greyed out when the Yellow “Dribbling” and “Shooting” buttons are not being used by the player. Speaking of customising our controls, this year the “Shift” button (Black “B” button on Xbox One controller) will enable you to make quick selections between custom configurations of controls. You can save your set of controls as “Presets” and then select them by pressing the “Shift” button. You can also use the “Shift” button to quickly return to the default FIFA controls. FIFA Ultimate Team FIFA Ultimate Team continues to be the most-loved and only ever growing part of the FIFA series. Make your Ultimate Team grow by buying packs, completing challenges, adding cards to your virtual collection and watching the games in the new ‘Role Model’ moments. An exciting addition to the FIFA Ultimate Team experience is The Journey Series, a series of TV shows which bring you the inside stories of the stars in your Ultimate Team. New to FIFA Ultimate Team is Leagues. Throughout the season you’ll be able to earn a variety of in-game rewards by qualifying for and competing in the various Leagues, such as Leagues for Odds and the “FIFA 22 Style Invitational”. You can also compete for real in real life Leagues, which are organised by EA SPORTS. A list of all real-life Leagues is available at FIFA.com. FIFA Ultimate Team’s Leagues will feature both thrilling weekly events, plus seasonal tournaments with the chance to earn Champions League points.
